Church Stretton History Group

The topic for our meeting on November 16th is "Castle Lodge Past, Present and Future".

Castle Lodge is a fine Grade II* building with a long and fascinating history. It has been at the centre of both Ludlow's political and social life over the centuries and was the home of Catherine of Aragon when she was married to Prince Arthur. Many readers may have visited it some twenty years ago under a previous owner. Following extensive work it recently opened as a boutique hotel and restaurant. Owner Ben Tagg will explore its story from its early years, the challenges and delights of the current restoration and his visions for its future.

As usual our meeting will be held at the URC Hall and will start at 2.00pm.

Visitors are welcome: £4.00.
